

2021 Africa Forum

John Lewis- Managing Director, Aggreko Africa

John is the Managing Director of Aggreko Africa, where he has responsibility for Aggreko's operations in over thirty countries across the African continent. Aggreko provides a range of power solutions, from short to long term, across government and industrial sectors such as mining, oil and gas, and manufacturing.

Aggreko is focused on both improving access to power in Africa, as well as enabling the increased use of renewable power solutions to improve the lives of Africans. Prior to Aggreko John held varied senior leadership roles in business to business organisations serving markets in Africa, Europe, Asia Pacific and North America

As well as leading Aggreko Africa, John is an active member of the Africa Investment Group, a UK government initiative to develop trade links between the UK and African nations. John holds a degree in Electrical and Electronic Engineering and an MBA.