

2021 Africa Forum

Liz Lloyd- CBE Chief Impact Officer, CDC

Liz Lloyd is the Chief Impact Officer at CDC. In this role she leads in overseeing the assessment, measurement and management of development impact activity and engages on focus areas such as gender, job quality, climate change and human capital.

Liz was previously at Standard Chartered, where she held senior positions including Group Company Secretary, CEO of Standard Chartered Bank Tanzania and Group Head of Public Affairs.

Before that she was Deputy Chief of Staff for Prime Minister Tony Blair and a senior adviser on Africa, Home Affairs and the Environment at No. 10. She received a CBE in 2008. finance policies for a transparent, secure, and quality digital future for everyone.