Seelan Gobalsamy- CEO, Omnia Holdings

Seelan Gobalsamy is an internationally experienced business leader with vast financial services experience. He has served in various senior and executive leadership roles across emerging markets for almost 20 years, working at numerous blue chip companies including Old Mutual, Liberty Holdings, and STANLIB. Seelan started at Omnia as a Non-executive Director in 2018 and then became Group Financial Director early in 2019.

He was appointed Group CEO soon after at a time when Omnia found itself in a position of immense financial turbulence - tasked with spearheading the Group's turnaround strategy, which was a success. Seelan currently serves as a Non-Executive Director at Momentum Metropolitan Holdings Limited, Momentum Metropolitan Life Limited and JSG Capital, a company he founded.

Seelan is passionate about building meaningful connections with people, empowering them and supporting their growth, effecting positive social change, driving sustainability, innovation and forward thinking, building world-class businesses and furthering Africa's potential.
