Heine Melkevik - incoming Managing Director for New Business at Seatankers LLP

Heine Melkevik is the incoming Managing Director for New Business at Seatankers LLP, the private office of John Fredriksen, a Norwegian-born entrepreneur within shipping, energy, and industry. In his new role Heine focuses on investments in the energy and industrial space with a particular focus on emerging regions such as Africa. The mandate spans the totality of the value chain from exploration, production, infrastructure, and trading.

Heine comes from a 15-year career at Equinor, the Norwegian energy company with operations in close to 40 countries. He has led several of Equinor's international operations in jurisdictions such as Mozambique, Russia, Colombia, Nicaragua, Suriname, and Nigeria. His last role with Equinor was as Vice President for Ideation where he led business development initiatives within low carbon solutions, crude trading and gas value chains.
